

How to find out what is going on in the Barony.... Join Our Tirydon Yahoo Group!!!

Tir-y-Don hosts it's own email list server for members of the Barony and it's friends to converse and share information. While this list is intended for use by the populace of the Barony, all are welcome to join.

How do I join? Go to www.groups.yahoo.com – type in “Tirydon” and request to join the group.

How do I know if the site for fighter practice has been changed? We are fortunate to have a wonderful site that offers us both indoor and outdoor options. We do however occasionally take our fighter practice “on the road” and will join another Barony for their practice. Information on the where and when will be posted on the Tirydon group.

How do I know if there will be a fighter practice? For the most part, fighter practice is held every Sunday – HOWEVER if there is a weekend event that weekend in the kingdom, there may not be a fighter practice. Again, the Tirydon group is your best bet as to finding out if there is one or not.

How do I know if there is a Kingdom event? Almost all kingdom events are listed on the Kingdom website at: www.atlantia.sca.org On the left side you will see the current month and the next months listed events. At the bottom you will see a link for “Kingdom Calendar of Events” – click on that and you will see ALL of the events currently listed.

How do I know who is going to an event? ASK! There is always lots of talk regarding who is going, where we are camping, food plans etc. If it is your first big event, buddy up with someone who has been before and can guide you through. Everyone is happy to help.

Remember, while the Baronial website is the best source for primary information and some people feel they get more than enough email, many times things come up at the last minute, and the Tirydon group is your best source for “up to the minute” news.
